Lee White Toyota expansion approved

City Redevelopment Agency to finance $1.2 million of improvements

The Lemon Grove City Council, sitting as the Redevelopment Agency, recently approved, in concept, a request from Lee White Toyota for assistance for the firm's projected expansion project.

Located at 6859 Federal Blvd., the auto sales company proposes to develop a 1,400-foot long strip of property across Federal, directly opposite the existing dealership.

The drainage improvements required by the proposed expansion will cost about $1,600,000, City Manager, Jack Shelver, told the Agency at the February 21 meeting.

At White's request, the Agency increased its' previous commitment from $1,050,000 to $1,600,000. Shelver estimated that the obligation would be repaid to the Redevelopment Agency, through increased tax revenues, in 10 years.

"If White produces the $400,000 difference he needs, it will get the project started,"

Shelver said.

He said the contribution of $1,600,000 will help pay for a reinforced concrete drainage carrier, 1,390 feet in length, at a cost of $1,112,000. Estimates of other required improvements are: $26,000 for curbs and gutters; $30,000 for a concrete sidewalk; $35,000 excavation and backfill; $70,000 to export excess earth; a masonry retaining wall, $81,000; and $243,000 for a storm drain.

Shelver said that the entire length of Federal Blvd., on which winter flooding occurs from time to time, is always a funding concern, but other than the Lee White Toyota project area, is not in the planning stage at present.

He said that further improvements, west of the dealership, would have to "wait until we can identify the funding source."

Lemon Grove robbery suspect apprehended

Arturo Carrenza, 22, a La Mesa resident, was arrested Thursday evening, as a suspect in the burglary, armed robbery and attempted murder of Lemon Grove resident Pete Smith, according to Detective Fred Rowe of the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Dept.

Smith suffered superficial stab wounds when he interrupted a burglary in progress at his property on Massachusetts Ave. Wednesday morning. Smith was attacked with a knife when he challenged the burglar.

Smith, a photo-journalist, threw a camera at his attacker, who then drove away with miscellaneous tools and Smith's camera.

Carrenza was apprehended as he left a residence on the 4600 block of Harbison Drive in La Mesa, by Sheriff's Department detectives, Roe and Bill Parsons, who recovered evidence in Carrenza's vehicle linking him to the attack on Smith.

Smith assisted in identifying both the suspect and the suspect's vehicle.

Carrenza, who is also a suspect in other burglaries which have occurred in La Mesa, remains in custody.

Severe blood shortage cited

A severe blood shortage has resulted from the high incidence of the flu in San Diego County according to the San Diego Blood Bank. At the same time the demand for blood has increased by 5 percent in San Diego County since January 1.

Donors are needed now at the San Diego Blood Bank, 440 Upas Street. In addition, the bloodmobile is visiting the Christian Church of Lemon Grove on Saturday, March 11, 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., 6970 San Miguel Avenue.

Friends of the Library elect new officers

Friends of the Lemon Grove Library have elected Tracy Brooks as president; Ron Day as vice-president; Dorothy Geldreich to the posts of secretary and membership; and Verla Humphrey as treasurer.

The club reported that the library will serve as a polling place for the California Senior Legislature election on March 21, and several club members will assist that day.

The club also plans to conduct a book sale during Lemon Grove Old Time Days. Lemon Grove firefighters will provide assistance in moving the library tables and books for the sale. The organization plans to hold the sale in its usual position, outside of the Lemon Grove Middle School, on School Lane, within the fence line.

San Marcos band seeks alumni

The San Marcos High School Marching Band is holding a reunion of all band members, from 1970 to present. The reunion will be held at San Marcos High School on Saturday, March 25. A catered lunch will be served, and reservations are required. Please call 745-9723 for further information.

County's call box network completed

The San Diego Service Authority for Freeway Emergencies (SAFE) marked the completion of Phase I of the County's freeway call box system at its February 27 Board of Directors' meeting.

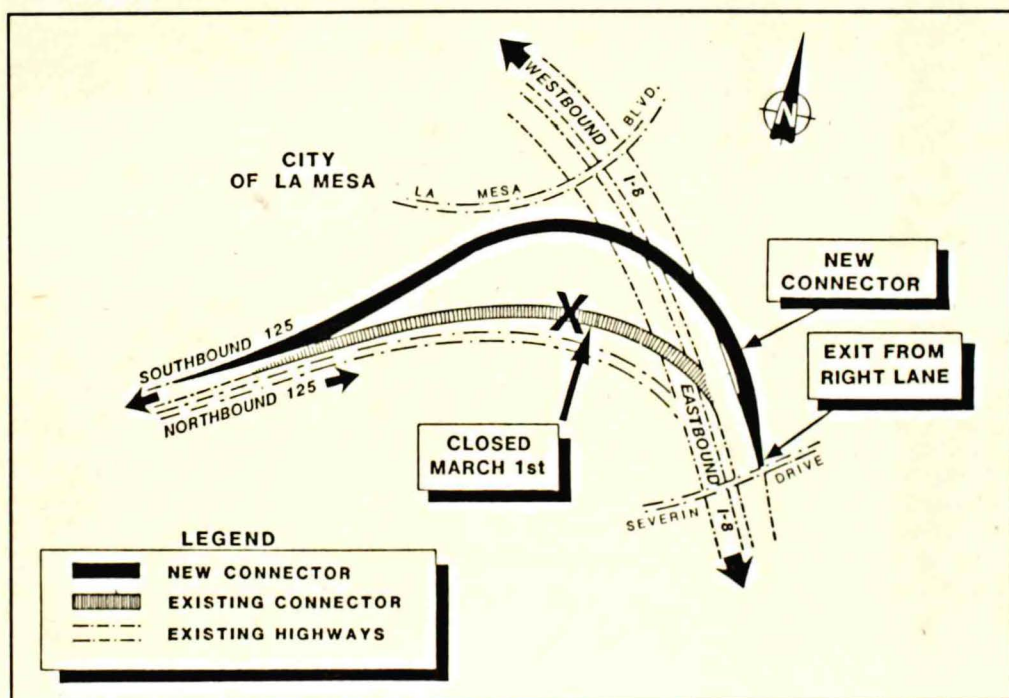

The 995 emergency boxes installed in Phase I cover all San Diego County freeways at 1/2 to 1 mile intervals and complete the call box network, except for boxes to be installed in construction areas and the easternmost portion of Interstate 8.

As call boxes have been installed, they've been put into operation and the system is now logging over 1,400 calls per week.

County Supervisor, Leon L. Williams, who serves as SAFE Chairman, noted that installation of the system is on schedule and within its budget.

"SAFE has moved aggressively to get this system on line and the number of calls being made prove that the system is useful to local motorists," he said.

The San Diego Service Authority for Freeway Emergencies was the first SAFE formed in California after Senator William Craven successfully introduced authorizing legislation. It is composed of representatives from the County of San Diego and local cities and is funded by local motorists who pay a $1 fee with each vehicle registration.

Caltrans re-routes SR 125 West

Motorists who have been exiting in the left-hand lane of westbound Interstate 8 to get to southbound State Route 125 in La Mesa and El Cajon have had to make a switch starting Wednesday, March 1.

The California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) announced that it will close the ramp and route SR-125-bound traffic across a new bridge exiting on the opposite, or right-hand side of the freeway starting with the morning commuter traffic.

The new bridge was constructed and the old one will be demolished as part of the third of four stages in the $80-million project to redevelop the I-8/SR-125 interchange. The current stage contract is about half completed.

Caltrans has posted signs alerting motorists of the change to the new bridge, which is located in the same general area of the interchange, only on the right-hand side. (See map above.)

Valle de Oro citizens' group to meet

Valle de Oro Citizens' Association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 8 at Bancroft Elementary School auditorium, 8805 Tyler in Spring Valley.

A representative of the San Diego County Public Works Dept. will address flood control, road maintenance, and junk auto removal, among other concerns.

Commentary

by Max Goodwin

If I were to be critical of my editorial comment over the years, I would admit that I've been heavy-handed on some bureaucrats, and the myriad bureaus each thinks he owns.

With that thought in mind, a little humor might be a welcome change.

I looked to the east where noted columnist, James Dent, provides chuckles to the readers of the CHARLESTON (W. Va.) DAILY GAZETTE.

Wouldn't you know it--He had a perceptive observation and it fits my thinking precisely.

One legislator was grumbling about letters he's been getting from his constituents.

"I'll swear," he complained, "the way some of these people complain about government spending, you'd think it was their money."

The recent presidential holidays encouraged the following in a third grade class where the teacher was telling about Abraham Lincoln. She asked students to write an essay on her presentation.

One youngster turned this in (spelling corrected in most instances):

"Abraham Lincoln was born in a log cabin. His mother died before he was born, so his stepmother had him."

He was the United States President who won the war against the Cornfeds (Confederates). The Cornfed president was Uncle Tom.

Abraham Lincoln was ugly so people called him Honest Ape.

He was very honest but he got elected anyway. He was a nice man.

He made a bunch of famous speeches. One of them was at Gettysburg where he gave the score. (It is believed he was talking here about "Fourscore and seven years ago....").

After the war he went to see a play. He didn't think it was very good so an actor shot him.

And finally, there was the story of the Lemon Grove lady who went into Berry's Sporting Goods Store on Broadway to look for a present for her current live-in. She told the clerk her man liked to fish.

"Is he," the clerk asked, "a fly fisherman?"

The young lady appeared perplexed.

"I don't think so," she replied. "I think he just fishes for fish."

From Where I Sit

by Frank Andrews

The recent record-breaking cold that they had up in Alaska, our largest and most beautiful state, brought back some fond memories of "My Greatest High."

When the Eskimos have to pull up another Huskie in bed at night to stay warm, and rubbing noses isn't done only for making love anymore, but to keep from freezing their little snozolas, "That's Cold."

Back in good old 1958, my buddy, Frank Bowman and I made an extended fishing trip from Minneapolis, Minnesota to Anchorage, Alaska. Frank not only is a good fisherman, but a heck of a nice guy to go with, so the team of "Frank and Frank" was well prepared for the abundant fishing along the famous Alcan Highway.

We purchased a brand new '58 Chevy pickup and built a neat camper for it, including an aluminum fishing boat on top. That was our cramped "home away from home" for over a month.

Our only delay in route was to stop at a choice lake or stream for some "out of this world" fishing. After tiring of fishing for that particular species, we would drive right on through to the next "hot spot."

After a couple of weeks of spot fishing in Canada, we entered the Territory of Alaska just a few days before Alaska's statehood celebration. At Tok Junction (north to Fairbanks or south to Anchorage), we met up with a world famous big game hunter-pilot, Bud Conkel. He offered to fly us into the "bush" to fish for the really big ones if we would help him set up a hunting camp for the fall hunting season.

We gladly volunteered as the fish that we were catching close to the highway were small and we knew that the "biggies" were in the remote lakes.

After some fabulous fishing in Bud's fly-in lake, he drove us further in with an antiquated army surplus "weasel" that would shed its steel tracks every few miles. Replacing the heavy tracks was the enormous and tiring job of Frank and Frank Company.

Our hearty threesome finally reached the base of Capitol Mountain and the halfway mark. We had to walk up the mountain from there as we needed the remaining gasoline for our return to Bud's camp. About five miles along the way we came in down wind from several hundred Caribou cows and calves.

After catching fish until we were sick of landing record size Trout, Northern Pike, Grayling, Salmon, and varieties too numerous to mention, we headed south to Anchorage and the big "Statehood Celebration."

Even visiting ancient glaciers, catching abundant fish, viewing the most beautiful scenery in the world, and attending the memorable celebration, did not effect me as much as the "high" I got from standing alone on one of the high plateaus of Capitol Mountain, and that glorious, exuberant feeling of being closer to the Lord than I had ever been before.

Last call for Girl Scout cookies

by Martha Hodges

If thoughts of Thin Mints and Savannahs have been on your mind since your neighborhood Girl Scout took your order, you don't have much longer to wait before you enjoy the real thing.

This year, Girl Scout cookie deliveries are scheduled to begin February 22, and continue through March 12.

If yours was among the unlucky households that Girl Scouts found dark on the day they went door-to-door in your neighborhood, you'll have one last chance to satisfy both your sweet tooth and a sweet cause. Cookies will be on sale at booths from March 3-12 at various stores and banks in the Lemon Grove area. Remember, this is your last chance. If you miss the booths, you'll have to wait until next year to experience the good taste of Girl Scout cookies.

You might like to enjoy sweet 'n easy treats with your cookies.

Mini Cheesecake

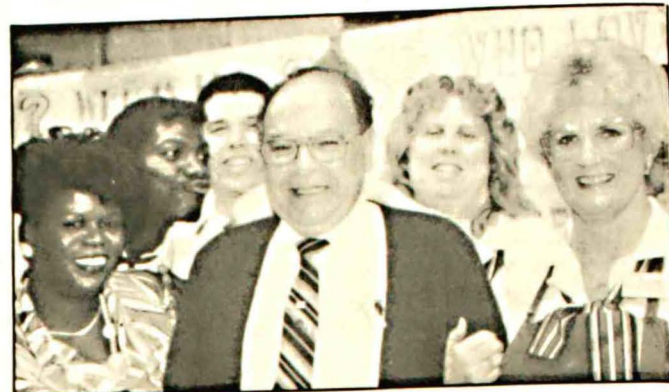

- 12 muffin paper liners
- 12 Scot-Tea cookies
- 2 8-oz pkgs. cream cheese softened
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 tsp. lemon juice
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1/3 cup heavy cream
- 1/2 cup sugar
- cherry pie filling

Layered Delight

- 1 pkg. Savannah Cookies, crushed
- 4 tbsp. margarine, melted
- 1 pkg. 8-oz. cream cheese, softened
- 2 (4 servings) pkgs. instant chocolate pudding
- 3 1/3 c. milk
- 3 c. whipped topping or whipped cream

In small bowl, combine cookies with melted margarine, press mixture on bottom of 13 x 9 inch pan. Chill slightly. Combine cream cheese with 1/3 c. milk. Spread over cookie mixture. Chill 15 minutes. Prepare pudding with 3 cups milk and pour over cream cheese mixture. Chill 1 hour, or until ready to serve. Top with whipped topping or whipped cream.

There's something special about the Girl Scouts' annual cookie sale. It seems to make everyone happy. The purpose of activities and opportunities in Girl Scouting is to help today's girls become the confident, competent, and compassionate women of tomorrow. The support we give these young girls today will undoubtedly return to us tomorrow, when our future is in their hands.

Friendly Ernie Rusconi retires at Lucky Market

By Max Goodwin

Ernie Rusconi was retired with a belly dancer last week.

That is true but it calls for some exposition.

Ernie Rusconi was retiring from Lucky (Food Basket) supermarket after serving the firm faithfully for 27 years.

There, at the Lemon Grove store, where thousands had been served by Rusconi, some 200 well-wishers were on hand to see him awarded a gold watch, properly engraved. And the belly dancer, properly discreet, joined in the happy atmosphere of Lucky management, personnel, and well-wishing visitors in the ceremony.

Among those with tearful eyes and broad smiles were his wife of 37 years, Elaine, and their daughters, Joyce and Linda.

"I've made a lot of friends in the food business (which covered 48 years--Lucky stores, 27 years; Safeway, 10 years; and an independent store, 9 years), because I've always been a people's person," he said. Those who know him agree that he is "outgoing and friendly."

"I've seen a lot of changes in my time. Pricing...That changed from grease pencil, to cash register, to computers.

"I recall when the badge of a grocery clerk was an apron. Not so much to prevent getting soiled, but to be filled with items to be carried from the stockroom to shelves. In those days we made so many apron-filled trips that when the boss brought in 2-wheelers, I thought I had died and was in Heaven."

Rusconi had a philosophy that the youth of this generation should heed. "I never thought of it as a job, I saw it as a profession. As a professional, I owed much to our clients and to those who managed the firm. I saw every day as offering new experiences in my profession."

He took time out to serve 5 years in the Navy. He was a cook and baking instructor at Naval Training Centers.

He served 3 of the 5 years in "U.S. Trust Territories" of the South Pacific Mariana Islands. There, U.S. servicemen, including Rusconi, were charged with evacuating natives to Guam and the Tinian Islands. "These natives were suffering from such chronic illnesses as leprosy, elephantiasis, and tuberculosis," he said.

Rusconi viewed his Lucky retirement with the excitement of a youngster with his first bicycle. "I feel 200 feet in the air. It'll take me a month to come down," he said a couple of days before the party.

Don't you believe it. He lost me when he mentioned that he had to get his home (in El Cajon) in order. There's a lot of things he said that he had neglected.

"I've got to get my pool in shape for summer. The lawn needs a lot to be done to it...and there are a few little plumbing corrections that need my attention. After those things are done, I'll get back to doing something. I'll take the days as they come."

"Baseball season is starting. I like baseball. I recall the important names in the game... Al Couppee, Al Schuss...."

Retirement will give him some smarts. What he will learn is the pool, the garden, and the plumbing will become his profession, from which there is no retirement. Ask any man as willing and able as he...and with a home housing four.

Good luck, Ernie. Your friends will miss you.

Letters

To the Editor:

Welcome to Lemon Grove, and congratulations on a very well done first issue. We know that you will find our little town to be friendly and you will enjoy the people who live here. If you are looking to rival the "National Enquirer" in wild and sensational copy, I am afraid that you will not find Lemon Grove to be a productive news source. You will find that there are many items of local interest in this community, and I am sure that you will succeed if you pursue them. I also know that you can rely on just about anyone that you meet on the street to provide your reporters with interesting and pertinent information about the City.

Max Goodwin is a community treasure that is second only to the Lemon in veneration, if not age. We sincerely hope that you can persuade him to remain in some capacity to give the valuable tie to the past, and his sage observations on the present. Also, you won't find a better sports reporter south of L.A.

I am sure that all of the City personnel will be very cooperative, and will join me in welcoming you to our home.

Dr. Robert F. Burns
Councilman-City of Lemon Grove

McGruff the Crime Prevention Dog communicates with children

What do puppets and sheriff's deputies have in common? Both are interested in the safety and welfare of children.

That's the message given by McGruff the Crime Prevention Dog and his partner, Debbie Silvers, a crime prevention specialist from the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station.

Recently, this crime-fighting duo visited St. John of the Cross Catholic School at the invitation of Principal Sr. Rosemary Babbit and Vice-principal, Sr. Mary Dulcey.

"The safety puppet programs provide a positive interaction with law enforcement," said Miss Silvers.

"We want children to associate a Sheriff's deputy with help and safety as well as have them learn safety precautions," she added.

During the presentation, children learned how to identify the deputy sheriff as Miss Silvers pointed out the colors of the uniform she was wearing as well as the shoulder patches and the importance of the Sheriff's deputy badge. She tested their knowledge of what a deputy sheriff's duties are by asking the students questions.

"Writing tickets," volunteered one young man. "Putting crooks in jail," piped up another student.

She supplemented their knowledge of a deputy's duties by adding how much training deputies get and the importance of cooperating fully when a deputy is trying to help them such as if they get lost.

Miss Silvers also cautioned children never to point a toy gun at anyone or a car because it scares people because toy guns look so real. She advised the students to paint their toy guns in a bright color so they look like a toy.

Then she spoke about the 9-1-1 emergency number, and when to call on 9-1-1. The children were shown blown-up photographs of the Sheriff's communications center in Kearny Mesa and the dispatchers at work there.

"When they can see where their calls are answered, it takes the mystery out of 9-1-1 and the fear too. The children know who they are talking with and that help will come because the address automatically appears on the computer screen," said Miss Silvers.

The highlight of the program was the appearance by McGruff the Crime Prevention Dog, the national mascot of law enforcement, singing about safety.

"Take a Bite out of Crime. You can make your life a safer one if only you'll take the time."

The children smiled and cheered when McGruff finished singing his message.

"McGruff really communicates the message to kids. A recent survey showed that there is a 97% recognition of McGruff among schoolchildren and 91% of those schoolchildren would follow his advice. He is an excellent tool in our goal to keep kids safe," said the puppeteer.

"I tell the children that the most important thing that they can do is to tell their parents to lock their house. All children should learn to properly secure the windows and doors of their home."

In the past two years, Miss Silvers and McGruff have visited over 17,000 children within the Sheriff's jurisdiction. The program is available for kindergarten through 5th grade. Presentations can be scheduled by calling 441-4100.

It's apparent that the older students have heard his message because when Miss Silvers asked, "What does McGruff say?" they shouted "Stay away from drugs" and "Take a bite out of crime."

The kindergartners didn't fare so well. What did they think he said? "Woof, woof." Miss Silvers smiled and said, "That's right, but let's talk about the important things he wants you to know....."

Spring Valley second grader to compete for role on "Head of the Class" on TV

Four local students were winners in Sylvan Learning Centers' drawings to compete for the opportunity to play a walk-on role on the hit TV show "Head of the Class."

The winners include: Justin Petersen, an eighth grader at Peirce Junior High in Ramona; Bernie Stabile, a sixth grader at Rio Canyon Elementary in El Cajon; Bob Perkins, a fifth grader at Westwood School in Poway; and Kimberly Peterson, a second grader at Rancho Elementary School in Spring Valley.

Sylvan Learning Centers have been encouraging students to take S.M.A.R.T. Steps in their schooling to address poor grades. As part of this effort, Brian Robbins, who plays "Eric" on the hit TV show "Head of the Class" has been traveling around the country to promote students taking S.M.A.R.T. steps:

- *Scope out where you are in school. And where you want to be.
- *Make a plan. How do I get to where I want to be?
- *Ask for help. It's OK, your teachers and parents will understand.
- *Raise your grades. And reach your full potential.
- *Try your best. Take charge and take off.

For more information, call Sylvan Learning Centers at 585-GROW.

San Altos students fingerprinted for identification purposes

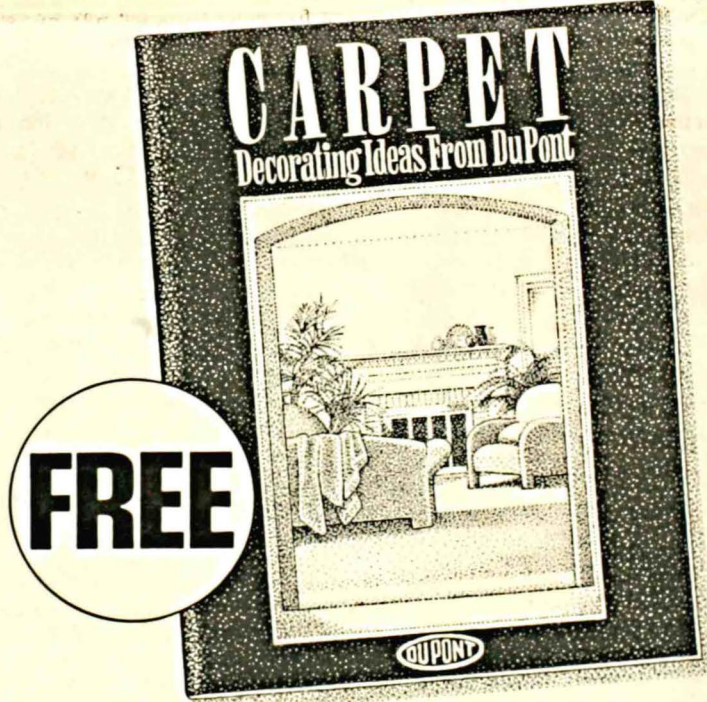

Erin Devenberg being fingerprinted by Jan Alvarez at San Altos school Employees of the San Diego County Probation Department had their hands full--of inky little fingers Friday.

Pre-schoolers, kindergartners, and first-graders at San Altos Elementary lined up to be inked and printed for the Kindergarten Fingerprinting Identification Program, sponsored by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of San Diego.

The program includes a free informational folder which is designed to identify each child in detail. Program on slowing down aging process

Living can definitely take its toll, especially if proper health care throughout the years has been minimal. Physical and mental stress over the years can lead to a number of problems, as can simple wear and tear. Arthritic conditions often develop, accompanied by pain and stiffness. Frequently, general lack of adequate mobility becomes evident as the years go by. This is not the time to ignore our body's need for help in its everyday effort to remain healthy!

On Thursday, March 9, 1989, Single Friends will host Dr. Peter Tortora as guest speaker on the topic, "The Bio-Mechanics of Aging and What You Can Do To Slow the Process."

Dr. Tortora is on the President's Council on Physical Fitness and has been responsible for several of the health fairs in the South Bay as well as the initiation of Health Awareness Week. He will share with us the process of aging, how the things we eat, our physical routine, and the stress we live with effect the process. He will give insight on the things we can do to get the most out of life.

Single Friends, a self-help group for divorced, separated, and widowed people, meets every Thursday at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, corner of Hilltop & "I" Streets, Chula Vista, and all formerly married persons are welcome to attend.

Most people who attend these meetings have "recovered" from the initial shock of being alone, but are interested in meeting new friends and come to learn how to cope with the legal, emotional, and financial problems of being single.

Community meetings set by MTDB

The Metropolitan Transit Development Board (MTDB) will hold two meetings to discuss planned changes to bus and trolley services within the East County area.

The community meeting will be held at 7:00 p.m., March 6, at the La Mesa Women's Club, 5220 Wilson Street, La Mesa. A public hearing is scheduled for 9:00 a.m., March 9, at the Board Meeting Room, 10th Floor, James R. Mills Building, 1255 Imperial Avenue, San Diego.

The Community Meeting will include a presentation on the recommended changes as well as time for questions and answers. The Public Hearing will offer residents an opportunity to comment on the proposed changes before the MTD Board. Written comments are also welcome, and may be sent to MTDB, 1255 Imperial Avenue, Suite 1000, San Diego, CA 92101.

The full East Line is scheduled to open Sunday, June 25, 1989. To complement this opening and avoid duplicating service, MTDB is also recommending certain bus route changes to better serve the new Trolley stations in Lemon Grove, La Mesa, and El Cajon. In addition, MTDB will explain previously approved changes to County Transit System routes designed to achieve these same goals.

Liddell adds 'tuner' to his teacher's title

Larry Liddell, Lemon Grove pianist and piano teacher, now includes the title "piano tuner" in his professional services.

Liddell, presently doing contract work for a San Diego firm, has eight years experience in tuning both acoustic and electronic pianos.

"I have planned for some time to establish my own business," he said. "In preparing to provide quality tuning and repairs, I have reduced my teaching load and cut back on my work as a pianist." He presently has 17 students and is not accepting new students.

Part of Liddell's tuning service will include suggestions for maintenance of the instrument. His work is fully guaranteed.

No stranger to music, Liddell has established an enviable reputation in several phases of his musical career. Before moving to California, he was chief technician for the electronic keyboards at the Las Vegas, Nevada, Dunes Hotel and Country Club.

Composing credits include his "Silent Movies", which were introduced earlier at the Sunset Beach and Racquet Club at Golden, Colorado. Of his work there, Dawn T. Ipsen, manager, said, "Larry Liddell is a fine musician with excellent character."

He was a finalist in the 1976 American Song Festival's international composing competition.

Since moving to Lemon Grove three years ago, Liddell has limited his playing largely to accompanying, with occasional solo performances. He serves as a member of his church's music committee.

His experience includes tuning and repairing Japanese and Korean instruments, as well as European and domestic pianos. While much of his work has been with concert pianos and church and school instruments, he plans to emphasize the tuning and maintenance of pianos in the home.

"Given proper care, the family piano can give years of service. It is surprising the number of things members of a family can do, without expense, to lengthen the life of their piano," Liddell said.

"Like a home, the value of a properly cared-for piano often appreciates in worth."

Liddell, 47, his wife, Dee, and their daughter, Heather, reside at 2422 Camino de las Palmas, Lemon Grove.

Case Number: 148523

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both, of:

ELEANOR CLEMENCIA JORDAN

A PETITION has been filed by SANDRA L. JORDAN in the Superior Court of California, County of San Diego, requesting that SANDRA L. JORDAN be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority allows the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain actions, however, the personal representative is required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to this petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on March 13, 1989 at 1:45 P.M. in Dept. F-5, located at 1551-55 Sixth Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should either appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in section 9100 of the California Probate Code. The time for filing claims will not expire prior to four months from the date of the hearing noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in section 1250 of the California Probate Code. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Zoanne Bisson-Teacher of the Year

"Of course she's special, she's our teacher!" exclaimed one bright lass.

"She's special because she's Teacher of the Year," countered another.

An eager display of admiration by her fifth-grade students is Zoanne Bisson's reward for her own contributions to them.

Now in her twenty-first year of teaching at San Altos Elementary School, Bisson has been selected as Teacher of the Year for 1988-89.

Candidates, nominated by their principals, are chosen for their teaching skills, classroom control, in-class programs, and various other merits. The final selection is made by Dr. James Justeson, Lemon Grove School District Superintendent, and school administrators.

In addition to her expertise in those areas, Bisson is an advisor to new teachers, a mentor teacher, conducts in-service programs for groups of teachers, and has also served on district committees, and on a textbook selection committee.

She pointed out that she shares the acclaim with Mary Dell Worthington, who is Teacher of the Year Emeritus and now holds an administrative post in Santee.

"Mary Dell was my Master teacher when I was a Student teacher at State," Bisson added.

Bisson is nearly a native of Lemon Grove, having resided here since the age of five.

"You might say I'm 'locally grown.' I attended Monterey Heights, Lemon Grove Junior High, Mt. Miguel, and then attended Grossmont College on a P.T.A. scholarship before I went on to San Diego State," she said.

Bisson finds that of all the joys she experiences in her career, the support network offered by her colleagues, school administrators, students' parents, and the community, is most rewarding.

"There is strong support in Lemon Grove. Before I began to teach, I was told, 'Work in Lemon Grove; you may not earn as much there, as in other communities, but you'll enjoy your work more,' and it's true. The parental support we receive, that is encouraged in our school district, is tremendous," she remarked.

Parents are very evident on each of our schools' grounds, and are encouraged to participate in classrooms or field trips, to share their professions, and are urged to telephone administrators, staffs, or their student's teachers with questions or concerns.

As a wife and mother, Bisson easily relates to the importance of events at home impacting a student's performance at school.

"I want parents to call me, and I always try to return their calls during the next scheduled break, at lunchtime; even evenings. I need to know, as soon as possible, about a relative's death, a divorce, a new baby, or anything at all that may cause distress to a student," she explained.

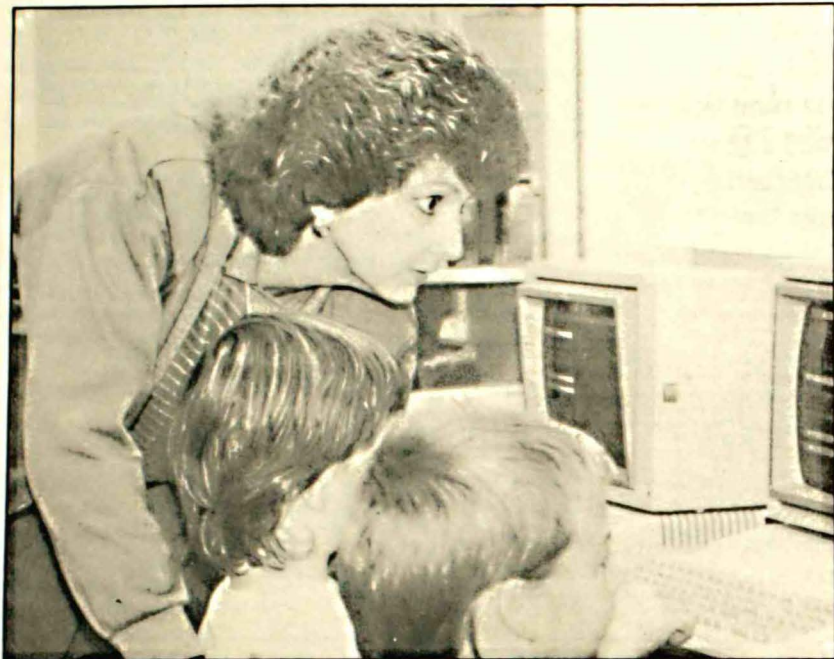

"Perhaps teachers don't earn as much money in Lemon Grove as other teachers do. But teachers in Lemon Grove have respect. We are treated, by the Superintendent and the administrators, like the professionals we are. That helps me give 110 percent, and really makes a difference to our children," said Bisson.

And give of herself, she does. She leans closer, brow furrowed with gathered intensity.

"I feel we MUST reach these children and excite them about learning. It is up to us, their teachers, to make learning interesting; involved; personal. We have to focus on meeting their needs, daily."

That is Bisson's goal. To instill within her students a love of learning that will serve them a lifetime through, and perhaps rescue them from the more hazardous pitfalls of growing up.

An admirable goal. A thoroughly admirable woman.

Teacher of the Year, Zoanne Bisson, assists her fifth-grade students during a computer lab class at San Altos Elementary School.

BIKE RODEO

Bike Rodeos are always popular, and the annual event at Mt. Vernon Elementary School was no exception.

Conducted by the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Department, in conjunction with AAA Automobile Club of Southern California, young cyclists participated in challenges which test balance and riding skills under the direction of Deputy Larry Garrett, who coordinates the events at each elementary school for the department's Safety Patrol.

The Rodeo also included a bike inspection for operation, braking ability, presence of light reflectors, chain lubrication, tire pressure, and proper alignment, courtesy of Jim Hoke, Service Patrol Unit of the Auto Club.

Especially important is the identification engraving on each bicycle provided by the Sheriff's Crime Prevention Specialists, who use a parent's identifying number--usually a drivers' license number--to assist in finding a bike in the event of theft.
